A Diagraceful Cutrago.

The Lonisville Democrat of Ang. 17, says On Thursday last, by Rev. J. Marquis, Mr. that some time since an itinerent lecturer. Josana Hony, Printer, to Miss Lucy And Han ned Graham, passed through the interior of savon, all of this place. Kentucky, and was suspected of entiring prove that he was not the person. They would not believe him however, and proceeded to pelt him with eggs. The Democrat says o bushel were thrown at him. 'His lace, except a large ciscle was blackened with indellible ink, and he was advised to leave the the State as soon as possible." In that condition he left Cynthiania and came to Cincinnati. The Democratized the above as if it were a good in the second described the above as if it were a good in the second described the second described the second the second described the second the second described the second lectured in that part of the State some time ago, and for what the present Mr. Graham was taken. According to the News, Graham came to Cynthana last Friday with a plow. On Sunday be bired a home and repaired to Mt. Cermel, about four miles from town, to a Christian Church, and at the conclusion of the services he introduced himself as a preacher of that denomination, and he preached in the afternoon. On his return to town that night, be told the landlord of the house where he stayed, that he was going early to bed; but instead of so doing, he proceeded to the African Church, the congregation of which was composed of colored persons, he being the only white man present. Here he amounted the pulpit and harrangued the slaves until a late hour, and spoke of the facilities there were now in Ohio for their escape to Canada. In formation being given to the most respectable estizens of the character of his address, he was advised the next morning to leave the town.-This at first he refused to do, but afterwards consented. Instead of leaving by railroad, he hired a horse if r the purpose of going to Bourbon county. Rumors of his intention being the hire of hir circulated, the crowd gothered, which soon become excited, and he was pelted with ergs .-The county Judge, to save him from further violence, took him to the Jail forsafety. There his face was blackened with lunar caustic to prevent his being known, and then a committee escorted him to the cars, and placed him on the cars for Covington. So he escaped with out further molestation. Under this state of facts he will find few-per one who will sym-

Death of Commodore Downes.

Commodore John Downes, of the U.S. Na vy, died at his residence in Mount Vernor stree', Charlestown, at half-past four o'clock yesterday morning, at the age of 70.
